SUPPORT WORKER

INTRODUCTION

Hi, I'm Isaiah!

I'm a friendly, outgoing and people-focused person who genuinely enjoys connecting with others. I have always worked in service-focused environments and take pride in creating positive experiences and doing what I can to make someone's day a little better.

Hands-on learning

I enjoy supporting people through practical experiences and finding opportunities for participants to learn, explore and build confidence in ways that are meaningful to them. Learning should be enjoyable, encouraging and suited to the individual.

Outside of work

I'm a creative person and enjoy bringing ideas to life with my 3D printer, playing games with friends and getting out and about. I'm naturally curious and enjoy learning new things, taking on challenges and developing new skills.

Experience supporting individuals with

Intellectual Disability

Down Syndrome

Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) Levels 1, 2 & 3, including non-verbal ASD

Early-Onset Dementia

Generalised Anxiety Disorder (GAD)

Epilepsy

ADHD

I bring a positive attitude, enthusiasm and patience to my work and enjoy getting to know each participant as an individual. I take the time to understand their interests, communication style, preferences and goals, while supporting their independence and encouraging them to participate in activities that are important to them.

"Whether it's getting out into the community, learning something new, enjoying a favourite hobby, playing games, or simply spending time together, I enjoy creating positive experiences and building genuine connections."

I look forward to getting to know the people I support and being part of their journey with Little Things Support Services.
